

International Safety Education Seminar

Call for Abstracts ISES 2025

March 12th-13th – Levi, Finland

We are pleased to announce the call for abstracts for the International Safety Education Seminar 2025 (ISES). ISES serves as a platform for people interested in fire safety and public safety. This includes researchers, fire safety and communication experts, students, decision makers and organisations utilizing information and research results.

Themes:

- Fire safety education
- Child and adolescent safety
- Vulnerable groups & Elderly
- Innovation & Technology
- Risk analysis and risk management
- Safe communities
- Wildfire, natural hazards, and communities

The presentation length is 20 minutes, including questions. There is also a poster presentation session. Posters are size A1 (594x841mm) and in English. Abstract submissions are required to be less than 500 words in length, including a short author biography.

The deadline for abstracts is September 15th, 2024. Submit your abstract on sppl.fi/en/ises-2025. The steering group will review submissions and communicate decisions by October 8th, 2024.

Participation and meals are free for both speakers and poster presenters. In addition, travel expenses (up to a limit) and accommodation will be compensated for the speakers.

Join us at ISES 2025 to contribute to the advancement of fire safety and education knowledge and practices. We look forward to your participation!

Please spread the word about ISES 2025 to your colleagues and network, even if not as presenters but as attendees.
